

Faculty Position Announcement
School Psychology Program
Department of Counseling Psychology
Lewis & Clark College

The Department of Counseling Psychology in the Graduate School of Education and Counseling at Lewis & Clark College invites applications for a .5 FTE term (non-tenure track) faculty appointment in the School Psychology Program, beginning September 2016. The NASP/NCATE-approved Lewis & Clark School Psychology Program prepares professionals to work in deeply engaged and collaborative ways with students, teachers, families, administrators, and other professionals to address the social, emotional, and learning needs of children in schools, with a particular commitment to advocacy, equity, and social justice. The ideal candidate for this position brings demonstrated expertise in the practical, scholarly, and visionary aspects of the role of the school psychologist and will have the skills and experience to serve in administrative roles in the program.

Qualifications

- Ph.D., with emphasis in School Psychology
- Experience working as a school psychologist with NCSP license eligibility
- Teaching and supervision experience at the graduate level

Responsibilities

- Teach graduate-level school psychology courses and advise Ed.S. candidates
- Participate in on-going program administrative, assessment, and accreditation activities
- Engage in service to the program, the college, and the broader community

Application Procedure

Review of applications will begin on January 22, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled. To apply, please visit <http://apply.interfolio.com/33397>, click Apply Now, and submit the following:

- A letter of application addressing the qualifications and responsibilities noted in this posting and describing teaching and scholarship interests
- Curriculum vitae
- Sample student evaluations
- 2-3 samples of scholarship
- Graduate transcripts
- Three confidential letters of recommendation
- Contact information for three additional references (at least one reference should address the applicant's commitment to, experience with, and potential for working with diverse student and community populations)

Additional Information

For additional information on this position or the School Psychology Program at the Graduate School of Lewis & Clark College contact: Search committee Chair, Dr. Peter Mortola, School Psychology Program Co-Director, at pmortola@lclark.edu or by calling (503)768-6072.

Lewis & Clark College will conduct background checks on the finalist(s).

The College explicitly acknowledges and affirms its conviction that diversity with respect to race, ethnicity, national origin, socio-economic background, religious orientation or spirituality, physical or sensory disability, gender, and sexual orientation on the Lewis & Clark campus provides an educational benefit for all students that can be realized only by enhancing and preserving the presence of students and education professionals from diverse backgrounds within our learning community.

Lewis & Clark College is an Equal Opportunity Employer committed to preparing students for leadership in an increasingly interdependent world that affirms the educational benefits of diversity (see <http://www.lclark.edu/about/diversity>).